

- I-Day celebrated with kite flying, theme parties
- Aarushi murder: Judicial custody of accused extended

Special Report

- Plot to assassinate Obama foiled
- Cyclone Gustav becomes a hurricane and pounds Haiti
- Tropical cyclone Gustav rears an ugly head as weather expert's start monitoring it
- Dancing with the stars season 7 to premier in september
- Dolly Parton not dead but suffering from heart congestion

Latest News

- No "true threat" to Obama: US police
- Three killed as terrorists strike in Jammu and Kashmir
- Poison warning over Ayurvedic drugs bought online
- Why 'papa', 'mommy', 'daddy' are a baby's first words
- Does size matter for fireflies? Experts to study
- Suniel Shetty is bringing back 'Biggest Loser Jeetega'
- Bush condemns Russian recognition of Georgian provinces
- Bomb attacks kill 45 in Iraq
- Bangladesh court grants bail to former premier
- Hijacked Sudanese passenger plane lands in Libya

Pro-women's laws misused, say civil society groups

August 25th, 2008 - 9:47 pm ICT by IANS -  Email This Post

New Delhi, Aug 25 (IANS) Lashing out at the National Commission for Women (NCW) a day before Women Equality Day, two civil society groups Monday said that the pro-women, progressive legislations in the country were being misused, and demanded that the legislations be made gender neutral. The Mothers and Sisters Initiative (MASI) and All India Forgotten Women (AIFW) in a joint statement said that the laws for the protection of women and their rights - like the legislations against rape and sexual harassment, adultery or domestic violence, divorce or child custody - should be made gender neutral.

The two organisations said that a Right to Information (RTI) application has revealed that information given by the NCW was false. NCW chairman Girija Vyas's statement that in 70 percent divorce cases men try to escape from providing maintenance to their former wives by alleging adultery, in response to the RTI application was found to be completely false and far fetched, they said.

Sandeep Bhartia of Gender Human Rights society, which helped both these organisations in logistics, said that an RTI filed by them last month revealed surprising results.

“The NCW keeps making fleeting statements not backed with proper logistics and data. To their own claim that in 70 percent divorce cases men try to escape providing maintenance by alleging adultery, they responded to the RTI that they don't have any such data,” Bhartia told IANS.

The organisations went on to say that the NCW grossly exaggerates data of dowry harassment, dowry deaths and domestic abuse in order to attract funds from foreign agencies like the United Nations Development Fund for Women (Unifem).

“On the occasion of Women Equality day, the organisations want to say that in the name of women empowerment, lets not punish elders, children and innocent people who, without proper investigation, are arrested under the Domestic Violence Act, Dowry Prohibition Act and the likes.”

“All that we demand is that provisions of the Domestic Violence Act, adultery laws, laws against rape and sexual harassment and family laws (divorce, maintenance and child custody) should be made gender-neutral,” Bhartia said on behalf of members of MASI and AIFW.

vote now

Share on Facebook Post to: del.icio.us

Powered by AdToll

Advertise here

Posted in Uncategorized |

- Related Stories
- Links for this article

Related Stories